District Attorney, T. V. Julien spent the day in Wadsworth yesterday on legal business. He came home last evening.

It is proposed to erect a salt palace at Salt Lake City. A building of that material ought to rent well for lager beer saloons.

J. J. Linn, our old Justice of the Peace, is once more at home, and will be ready to take his office at the beginning of the new year.

One can not realize that silver is selling at such a low figure until they visit Doane's jewelry store and see the elegant silver novelties they can purchase for only a small sum.

Marriage licenses were issued by the County Clerk yesterday, one to Melville Lawrence and Emma Richabaugh of Tallac, Lake Tahoe, and one to Arthur Cramer and Martha A. Barton, of Redding, Cal.

Now is the time to visit Will G. Doane's jewelry store and get a choice of silver novelties and jewelry. His prices are as low, if not lower, than any other establishment of the same kind in the State.

Arthur Cramer and Martha A. Barton, both of Redding, Cal., were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony in Reno by Justice Richardson yesterday. The Reno Justices must be very popular when people will come such distance to have the knot tied by a Justice of the Peace.

ANNUAL BANQUET.

The Reno Dramatic Club Held Their Yearly Reunion.

The members of the Reno Dramatic Club met at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Shearer on Monday afternoon and evening for the purpose of enjoying their annual feast, a club custom having been inaugurated a year ago to have a reunion and dinner at least once a year at the residence of some member who happens to be fortunate enough to have a wife or husband or home. On this occasion the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Shearer was appropriately decorated and the genial host and charming hostess received the members with every courtesy and bounteous hospitality. Covers were laid for twenty-six guests, this being the number of members who were able to be present, the rules of the club confining the invitations exclusively to those who have the honor to belong to the organization. Souvenir menus were a feature, the folder was of delicately tinted board, being illuminated with embossed letters and sea nymph, in gold and white and containing a splendid half-tone of the members together with two groupings of the cast in costume. The mounting and mechanical work was performed by Mr. Chas. Nash of the JOURNAL, who is also a member of the organization. The title page, menu card and page containing the toasts, club roster and officers of the club compared with the other work in excellence and made a splendid memento of the occasion.

The dinner consisted of twelve courses and was served in royal style. After the many eatables had been thoroughly discussed amidst many passages of wit, sentiment and repartee, Mr. Shearer as toast-master opened the "feast of reason and flow of soul" with an appropriate introductory, then followed in regular order named: "The Ladies," J. B. Schweitzer, responded to by Miss L. L. Wright; "Our Club and Its Work," F. P. Dunn; "Our Annual Dinners," Mrs. B. C. Shearer; "The Prompter, God Bless Him," A. W. Cahlan; "The Ladies' Wardrobe and Make-up," Mrs. N. E. Wilson; "Our Club as a Matrimonial Bureau or Why Should we go Outside for a Wife," T. E. DeLamater; "Shall We Spend Our Summer Vacation on the Road," Mrs. A. W. Cahlan; "Reminiscences (in absentia)," C. L. Knox; (Mr. Knox's letter to the club being read by Prof. Wilson); "Experiences in the Dressing-room," Mrs. Margaret Skinner; "How it Seems to be an Actor," C. H. Nash; response by Miss Sadie Phillips; "Our Heavy Man (212 pounds sterling)," W. W. Hunter; "Dramatics," Miss Laura Smith; "Amateurs and Professionals," N. E. Wilson; "Trials and Tribulations of a Makeup," E. D. Carpenter; "Our Critic," Nate W. Roff. In addition to the above, Jay Skinner, the youngest member, responded to the toast of "How it Feels to Die in a Play." The young man was the star of the evening, Miss Edmunds also spoke of how pleasant it was to be an honored guest of the club. The remarks of the various speakers were bright and created much merriment and good nature and the second annual banquet of the Reno Dramatic Club concluded at a late hour amidst an exchange of good wishes and all hoped that the reunions would even occur oftener than once a year.

Frankie Campbell Lost.

Frankie Campbell, the 12-year-old son of Hugh Campbell, a former resident of Reno, now of San Francisco, has been missing from his home in the city for a week or more, and no tidings of him have reached his distracted parents. Frankie was attending Ignatius College and left home as usual in the morning to go to school, but never reached there. He dropped out of sight as many others have done in the city. He was well treated at home and at school, and no reason can be conjectured why he should run away from home. Grave fears are entertained that he has met with foul play, or with some accident that has cost him his life. Frankie is known by the young people of Reno, and his mysterious disappearance grieves his old school mates; and the sympathy of all old friends is extended to the devoted parents.

To Arise.

Our townsmen, George Saur and Mrs. Cora Peek, played a rather scandalous trick upon our people the other day, by slipping off to San Francisco to get married, especially when we have such popular Justices of the Peace that the whole of California are coming over here to get the knot tied. It is a direct blow to the good name of our town, to which our people should not quietly submit. They should rise up in arms and prevent a recurrence of another such social imposition.

In Open Session.

As no party has a majority in either branch of the Legislature the election of officers of each will probably be made in open session and without party caucusing. Combinations will doubtless be made regardless of party lines and the probability is that there will be Republican, Silver party and Democratic officers in each house. The best combination adepts will probably gobble the greatest portion of the plunder.

Shaking Hands.

Will Young, recently from the Klondike, is around town shaking hands with his old friends. Will seems none the worse for wear, for his rugged experience in the frozen north; in fact he has become so large and fleshy that many of his old acquaintances did not at first recognize him. He tips the beam at 201 pounds. He will return to Dawson in April next.

Royal makes the food pure, wholesome and delicious.

Christmas Eve at the Asylum.

Christmas was celebrated appropriately at the Nevada Hospital for Mental Diseases. There was a richly laden Christmas tree from whose fruitful branches were distributed gifts to the patients who enjoyed the bounty of Santa Claus as keenly as their more fortunate brethren in the places of worship and by the family firesides. After the distribution the Julian orchestra gave a number of their best selections followed by other instrumental and vocal music to the great delight of the patients and visitors. Rev. Unsworth made some impressive and appropriate remarks, after which dancing commenced and was continued until 10:30 p. m. The patients were served with suitable refreshments and the visitors partook of an elaborate and toothsome banquet. The festivities continued until nearly midnight when the visitors returned to their homes well pleased with their evening's entertainment.

A Clever Trick.

It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can take it who has lame back and weak kidneys, malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by taking Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to liver and kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures constipation, head ache, fainting spells, sleeplessness and melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c a bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

An Interesting Case.

All people are interested in a new case that has recently "cropped up" in Reno, and they have good reason for being so. This case contains many striking features. It is Mr. F. P. Dunn's show case on Virginia street, down by the iron bridge. It is very beautiful, his new window display, of all that is modern in photography. There one may see large opalotypes small autotypes and lovely porcelains. Just think! Artistic photographs on genuine porcelain. And what do you think of this? He makes photographs on handkerchiefs—silk handkerchiefs. What more appropriate present could be imagined than one of these with your photo on it?
